

Become a CERTIFIED Nursing Assistant!

The Certificate of Nursing Assistant Program prepares entry-level nursing assistants:

To provide basic nursing care to elderly, ill, and disabled persons in long-term care, hospital, clinic, and home health settings.

To measure patients' vital signs, such as blood pressure and temperature.

To help patients with activities of daily living like eating, repositioning, and transferring patients.

To listen to and record patients' health concerns and report that information to nurses.
